<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>postscript</th>
<th>A note added after ending a letter.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>prescription</td>
<td>An order for medicine or other treatment written by a doctor.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>scribe</td>
<td>Before the invention of printing, a person who wrote books by hand.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>script</td>
<td>1. The text of a play, movie, or broadcast. 2. Handwriting</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
subscription

An order for, or a pledge to pay for, regular copies of a publication, a group of plays or concerts, and so on.

autobiography

A life story written by the person who lived it.

autograph

To sign one's name.

biography

An account of someone's life, written by another person.
geography
The study of the features of different places on earth.

paragraph
A section of a piece of writing, dealing with one topic.

graphic vividly or clearly described.

polygraph
An instrument that simultaneously records changes in heartbeat, blood pressure, and respiration, often used as a lie detector.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>cartography</th>
<th>The art or technique of making maps or charts.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ascribe</td>
<td>To consider as belonging, especially as a characteristic or trait.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>decrease</td>
<td>To make less, to become smaller. The process of getting smaller.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>dejected</td>
<td>Downhearted, in low spirits, unhappy.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
demote
To lower in rank or position, to move down or back.

denominator
The numeral below the line, or to the right of the line, in a fraction.

descend
To come down, to go from a higher to a lower place.

subdue
To bring under control, to quiet down; to conquer.
subheading

The title or heading for one section of an outline or paper.

submerge

To move, or be pushed, under water.

subside

To go down, recede, settle, sink to a lower level.

subsistence

The minimum amount to sustain life.
delete
To remove by striking out or canceling.

demolish
To tear down completely.

detach
To separate or unfasten; disconnect.

submarine
A vessel that can be submerged and navigated under water. antisocial
1. Unfriendly; not enjoying the company of others. 2. Harmful or hostile to the society of other people.

association
1. A club, society, or organization of people with similar interests. 2. Connection, friendship.

dissociate
To break the ties between, separate from, stop associating with.

society
1. People, human beings living and working as a group or a community 2. A club, association, or organization of people with similar interests.
sociologist

A scientist who works in the area of sociology, which examines the relationships, values, and institutions of communities of people.

commemorate

To honor the memory of.

memento

An object that reminds one of a special time or place.

memorandum

A written or typed note to help one remember something.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>memorial</th>
<th>A monument or statue built in the memory of a person or an event. Serving as a reminder.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>remembrance</td>
<td>An object that keeps a memory of something alive.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>socialism</td>
<td>An economic system based on state ownership of industry and production.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>memoir</td>
<td>An account of the personal experiences of the author.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>memorabilia</td>
<td>Objects kept or collected because of their historical interest</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>----------------</td>
<td>------------------------------------------------------------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>immemorial</td>
<td>Originating in the distant past; very old.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>